S. S. Mt. Vernon Sails Saturday on Cruise

• THE COLONIAL CRUISE is Saturday.

Students, faculty members, alumni and their offspring will board the S. S. Mount Vernon at pier 4 of the Wilson line at 2 p.m. Saturday for the traditional spring excursion to Marshall Hall.

Teams will be chosen en route to compete in the afternoon's tournaments, which include volleyball, badminton, horseshoes and, on the lighter side, an egg throwing contest, a tag-o-war, a sack race and a three-legged race.

In addition to athletic and relay competition, the cruise schedule includes a picnic supper, a square dance and a program of skits.

Voyagers are to provide their own food, and soft drinks will be sold both on the boat and at Marshall Hall. The square dance will be held in the park pavilion, with Tom Pence as caller.

The intermission program, in tune with the Latin American theme of the cruise, will include dances from south of the border, a mambo contest and skits by students and faculty members.

Students Baby-sit

Student babysitters will care for the children of cruisers throughout the day. A king and queen will be chosen from the younger set and crowned at the Marshall Hall pavilion during the program.

An early boat for Washington will leave the park at 5:30 p.m. The later boat, scheduled to depart at 10:30 p.m., will offer moonlight dancing to the music of Eddie Pierce's band.

Tickets for the Colonial Cruise are on sale this week in the Student Union lobby at $1.50 a couple. The cruise is included in the Campus Combo. There is no charge for children under 14 years of age.

Co-chairmen

Co-chairmen of the event are Pepita Lassalle and Ed Rutsch. Serving as chairmen of their committees are Marty Zipern, in charge of entertainment; Bob Jewett and Bill Tomaszewski, athletics; Pat Kallis, ticket sales; Al Porter, publicity; Bob Lipman, faculty relations; Jack Purinton and Maiko Kobashvili, children's recreation, and Jim Lay, finances.

Alterdate date for the cruise is May 11. In case of rain or other unfavorable weather conditions Saturday, the program will be carried out as planned one week later.

Now in its third year, the Colonial Cruise is traditionally the last big all-University event prior to final examinations in May.

Panel Speaks At Law Day

• THE QUESTION OF whether court proceedings should be photographed, televised and broadcast will be considered by panel of experts at the University's third annual Law Day Saturday.

The panel discussion, "Should Canon 35 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics of the American Bar Association, be amended?" will begin at 2:30 p.m. in Lisner auditorium.

Canon 35 prohibits "... the taking of photographs in the court room, during sessions of the court or recesses between sessions, and the broadcasting or televising of court proceedings . . ."

Participants in the discussion will be Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford Courant and chairman of the freedom of information committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors; the Hon. Alexander Holtzman, judge of the U. S. District Court for the District of Columbia; Richard P. Tinkham, of Tinkham, Beckman and Kelly, Hammond, Indiana, chairman of the American Bar Association's committee on public relations and member of the A.B.A.'s bar-media conference committee on fair trial-free press; and Vincent T. Wasilewski, repre-

Tappings, Awards Election Results Spark May Day

• THE UNIVERSITY'S annual May Day program will be presented Friday evening in Lisner auditorium.

Based on a court theme paying homage to the newly-elected May Queen, the program will begin at 8:30 p.m. The curtain will open on a grand ball-scene, which will feature members of the royal court in a waltzing sequence. The waltz will be accompanied by the Glee club. Following the waltz will be the announcement of the 1957 May Queen and the entrance of the Queen and her court.

The May Queen, traditional activities queen of the University, will be elected from three finalists earlier that day, by popular vote. Only women students are eligible to vote.

The polls will be open in front of the Student Union from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m., noon to 1:30 p.m. and 5 to 6:30 p.m. The three finalists, selected by student vote last week, are Beverly Borden, Bette Kolonia and Sandra Shoemaker. (See story on Page 6 for further details.)

Queen's Court

Also included in the Queen's court are the other senior women elected for Who's Who last fall: Beverly Alexander, Carolyn Cronin, Carol Dalton, Frances Bran Feldman, Karin Floyd, Joan Duke Gates, Rosalind Hauk, Bobby Holland, Charlene McDonald King, Dottie Miller Mansfield, Phyllis Mignone, Ellen Raley Prach and Nancy Wilson. They will be escorted by the male members of Who's Who and the Student Council. Joe Hince, Student Council president, will crown the queen.

Preceding the procession of the queen and her court will be the entrance of the flower girl, Darlene Tupper. 4-year-old Darlene is the daughter of Dr. Fred S. Tupper, professor of English literature here.

Several individual and group acts, including a traditional May pole dance by members of the Dance Production groups, will complete the musical portion of the program. Clayton Chadwell will emcee.

Fall Changes Faculty Status

• WITH THE PUBLICATION of the 1957-58 edition of the University catalogue, the administration has announced several changes in the status of senior members of the faculty.

Dr. Calvin D. Linton will become dean of the Columbian College, after a year as associate dean. Dean Arthur E. Burns of the School of Government will become chairman of the Graduate Council, supervising work for the doctor of philosophy degree. Deanships in the Schools of Law, Medicine and Government are not listed.

Other changes in the catalogue include several newly labelled as professor emeritus, a status usually conferred on faculty members who have reached retirement age.

They are Dr. Robert W. Bolwell, professor of American literature and present chairman of the Graduate Council; Dr. Thomas B. Brown, professor of physics; Dr. Elbridge Colby, professor of journalism; Dr. Henry G. Doyle, dean of the Columbian College and professor of romance languages, and Dr. Frank M. Weida, professor of statistics.

All of these except Dr. Colby are included in their departmental lists as "emeritus in residence" and are assigned courses to teach next year. Dr. Colby is retiring at the close of the present semester.

Dr. Marvin to Talk about Development At Tomorrow's 'Last Lecture' Program

• DR. CLOYD H. MARVIN, president of the University, will deliver the fifth Mortar Board Last Lecture tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in Lisner auditorium.

Dr. Marvin's topic will be "Your University and Mine," an informal talk on the development of the University. The series, sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, features topics which might be chosen by a professor for his last appearance before a class.

to the University have grown four times as great and the actual physical properties of the University have increased almost 18 times. Three years after Dr. Marvin's arrival, the Junior College, the Columbian College, the Graduate Council and the Division of University Students were established.

In 1937 Lisner library was built; a year later the Hall of Government was constructed. In 1941 Lisner auditorium was begun. During the war years University construction was halted and the University contributed its part to the war effort. It was here that Dr. Niels Bohr made the first announcement of the splitting of the atom.

'Informer' Picks SC Candidates

by The Informer

• A GOOD PORTION of the HATCHET Board of Editors has withheld spring after spring of campaigning and elections. We felt that we should share some of our advice and more intimate thoughts on the candidates with our reading public.

So with a divining rod in one hand and a two headed coin in the other, we settled down in our smoke filled office and rifled through the petitions.

On the serious side, we do feel that these are the best qualified of the many contenders for the Student Council offices and, in addition, we feel that they would function smoothly as a group, increasing both the power and prestige of the Council.

First we have the unanimous choice of Ernest Auerbach as School of Government representative and Ed Rutsch as vice president.

For the position of President, we feel Al Rode is best qualified for the job. His experience on the Council this year, and his participation in other jobs of leadership give Mr. Rode the background necessary for the Presidency.

For Secretary our choice is Kitti Maddock, active in publications work, secretary of Pi Delta Epsilon, the national journalism honorary, she is also experienced in administrative duties.

Our selection for Advocate is Bob Shuker. Mr. Shuker is the present Student Union chairman, holds a fraternity office and is a committee chairman on the Order of Scarlet. He was active this year also on the Campus Combo.

Tom Varley is our choice for Comptroller. His experience includes holding the position of treasurer of his fraternity, circulation manager of the HATCHET and finance chairman of Campus Combo.

Alum Wins $64,000 On Quiz Program

• UNIVERSITY ALUMNUS Edward Peary Stafford, accompanied by Dr. James H. Coberly, associate professor of American literature at the University, last week answered the $64,000 question on the television quiz show of the same name.

The Naval commander will return to the program tonight to tell a nationwide television audience whether he will try to answer the first of three questions leading to the program's $128,000 prize plateau. "The $64,000 Question" is televised locally at 10 p.m. on WTOP, channel 9.

The father of five, Cmdr. Stafford received his master's degree in English and American literature from the University last June. Dr. Coberly was his adviser. Program rules permit a contestant to call on the knowledge of an expert in his chosen field—in Cmdr. Stafford's case, American literature—in his try for the $64,000 question. Thus the Naval officer asked Dr. Coberly to join him in the show's "isolation booth" last Tuesday night.

The commander and the professor conferred on several items in the complex three-part question posed by emcee Hal March. They nearly stumbled on an identification of a situation from John P. Marquand's The Late George Apley.

Cmdr. Stafford correctly placed characters from novels by Dreiser, Faulkner, Wolfe, Steinbeck, and Sinclair. He pin-pointed a detail in Thomas Wolfe's You Can't Go Home Again in which Sinclair Lewis appears and is quoted. He identified situations from novels by Lewis, Dreiser and Faulkner, in addition to the Marquand puzzler.

be the announcement of Student Council election results. Also included in the evening's schedule of events are the announcements of HATCHET and Cherry Tree editors for the coming year and tappings for three honoraries—Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, and the Order of Scarlet, sophomore and junior men's honorary.

Several activities prizes will be presented during the program, including the Pi Beta Phi award to the outstanding senior woman, the Omicron Delta Kappa award to the outstanding senior man, the Alpha Delta Pi award to the outstanding junior woman, and the Mortar Board award to the outstanding sophomore woman.

An added attraction at this year's May Day will be the presentation by Gate and Key of the Lacy Garter. This award is given annually to the woman student who has made the most outstanding contribution to fraternity life on campus.

Activity Awards

Winners of the Hillel literary contest will also be announced, and Student Council certificates of appreciation, sports prizes and various other individual awards will be presented.

Dr. Don C. Faith, director of men's activities, will announce the results of the Student Council elections, while Col. Elbridge Colby, head of the journalism department, will announce the new editors for the coming year. All other awards and announcements will be made by Mr. Hince. Tom Miller's band will play.

Chairman of the 1957 May Day committee is Doris Rosenberg, Student Council activities director. Assisting here as sub-chairmen are Meredith Eagon and Ruth Reagan, program co-chairmen; Morna Campbell, queen's chairman; Gregg Mayer, voting chairman, and Elva Schroebel, invitations chairman.

Decor is planned by Professor Donald C. Kline, executive officer of the art department. Miss Elizabeth Burtner, director of modern dance, and Mrs. Diane Gaumer, instructor in modern dance are choreographers for the dance sequences.

Program director is Ed Ferero, managing director of University dramatics. Stage manager for the program is Walter Propps.

Faculty advisers are Miss Virginia R. Kirkbride, director of women's activities, and Dr. Faith.

What's doing... at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Cutaway model of P & W A J-57 engine. This twin-spool, axial-flow gas turbine powers the country's newest fighters and bombers and is slated for Douglas DC-8 and Boeing 707 jet airliners. Engine was the first to be rated at more than 10,000 pounds thrust.

A LOOK at the record

From its founding in 1925, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft has been essentially an engineering company. Its primary objective has been the design and development of new aircraft engines of superior performance and dependability. The guiding policy has always been, simply, that technical excellence must be the paramount objective, attained through constant effort to improve upon the best.

As early as 1928 Pratt & Whitney Aircraft's Wasp engines powered Navy seaplanes which brought back world records in altitude, range and speed from competitions in Switzerland, Germany and France. The following year, Wasp-powered Army Air Corps airplanes were flying combat formations at 30,000 feet.

All through the 1930s the power, range and fuel economy of the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Wasp and Hornet engines were developed, and the engines seasoned with experience. Wiley Post, the Lindberghs, Martin and Osa Johnson, Amelia Earhart, Admiral Byrd and Roscoe Turner were among the host of famous pilots who made aviation history with Wasp power.

During World War II, 50 percent of the aircraft powerplants for the American air arms were engineered by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft. Three of the five key fighter airplanes, a host of medium and heavy bombers, and 98 percent of all the military transports used Pratt & Whitney Aircraft engines.

The postwar development of the J-57 gained the company a position of engineering leadership in the jet field. It powered the first jet aircraft to fly faster than sound in level flight, and is now used in six supersonic fighters, three bombers and the first two American commercial jet transports.

Broadly diversified engineering careers at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft offer truly fine opportunity for young men equipped to deal with challenging assignments. You will find many answers to important questions about careers at P & W in our informative booklet, Jet Engineering. For a copy, write to Mr. F. W. Powers, Engineering Department.

for our selection as Student Union chairman, Mr. Lipman is presently a member of the Student Union Board, and his first hand knowledge with the problems of the Union give him the ability to handle the job.

For Member at Large, we have chosen Paul Truntich, Active in publications, a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, the national journalism honorary and a member of the Order of Scarlet; we sincerely believe his breadth of interest qualify him for the important job he seeks.

The various directorships are represented on our slate by Elva Schroebel, Freshman Director; Meredith Eagon, Publicity Director; Pepita Lasalle, Program Director, and Janice Powers, Activities Director.

For school representatives, we choose Franny Gleason for Education, Chaire-Chennault for Engineering; Carolyn Rowe for Columbian College, and Viris Cromer for Junior College.

We honestly feel these are by far the best candidates.

If we were to list all the activities of each and all of these candidates, this column would run on forever. They range from religious clubs and fraternity and sorority officers, to committee co-chairmen and offices on the Student Council. They have each proved themselves competent and reliable.

20 Girls Form Deuteron Club

• LATEST ADDITION TO the roster of campus organizations is the Deuteron club, which last week received provisional approval by the Student Council.

Composed of 20 girls, the new organization is seeking recognition as a "colony sorority" and hopes to become a full-fledged sorority within the next year. The newly-formed club will be discussed at the next Student Life Committee meeting early in May, and, if approved by that committee, will be well on its way to becoming the twelfth sorority on campus.

At present the Deuterons are functioning as a social organization.

Another main purpose of the club is to encourage its members to participate in more extracurricular activities.

The organization has not yet decided which national sorority it would like to affiliate with, but is considering several possibilities. A decision should be reached within the next week.

Officers of the new club are president, Doris Rosenberg; vice president, Phyllis Grossman; recording secretary, Harriet Litoff; corresponding secretary, Anita Rock; treasurer, Sheila Footer; and social chairman, Elaine Cohen. Faculty advisor is Mrs. Eva M. Johnson, assistant professor of psychology.

Combo Gains Cherry Tree

• THE 1957-58 Campus Combo will include the University Cherry Tree and students will be asked to sign pledges to buy the booklet during Student Council elections.

Combo Co-chairmen Phyllis Charnley and Warren Barley announced that the price of the booklet will be $11.85 offering a saving of $8.50 for a full year's activities. The Combo will include membership in Colonial Boosters, tickets to Homecoming, the three drama productions, the dance concert, Winter Weekend, Colonial Cruise and the University yearbook, the Cherry Tree.

Students are asked to sign pledges to buy the Combo next fall during the Student Council voting this Wednesday and Thursday. Pledges will also be given out during sorority and fraternity meetings next Monday night by the Combo Greek representatives.

The Combo will sponsor a sales contest for all Campus organizations during the fall registration. The organization having the most membership in Combo will be awarded a trophy.

The proposed fall sales campaign will make the Combo available on the first two days of registration in the cashier's office, where its price may be added to tuition fees. The campaign will then move to a booth in the Student Union for a period of not more than two weeks.

The Combo committee will meet

Dorm Honors Seniors at Tea

STRONG HALL WILL hold its annual tea for graduating seniors from 4 to 5 p.m. Friday in the dormitory drawing room.

The tea is held in honor of the senior girls living in the dormitory. Each girl receives a corsage and hears her "last will." A prophecy for each of the girls is also presented by the Dormitory Council.

Refreshments will be served.

The decorative theme will be built around May Day. All girls living in the dorm have been invited.

Social chairman Sandra Fox is in charge of arrangements for the tea. Working on her committee are Charlotte Timothy, Janice Powers and Olga Sukose. Miss Sukose is writing the script for the senior prophecy. Barbara Fabian and Leanne Lutz are helping with refreshments and decorations.

Newman Club Acts As Host To Convention

THE UNIVERSITY'S Newman club served as host for the annual Middle Atlantic Province convention of Newman clubs held last week end at the Shoreham Hotel.

Members of the clubs throughout Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia assembled for business meetings, religious observances, a banquet and various social events. All Catholic students at the University were invited to take part.

The convention opened Friday with registration and a mixer dance, beginning at 8:30 p.m. The Saturday program included the opening Mass, celebrated by Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle, at 8:45 a.m. at St. Thomas Apostle Church. After breakfast, the delegates assembled at the Shoreham for a day-long program of meetings, panel discussions and workshops.

The day was climaxed by a banquet at 7 p.m. The group heard an address by D. C. Commissioner Thomas A. Lane. The banquet was followed by an informal ball.

A communion breakfast at the hotel began the Sunday schedule. Msgr. John Tracy Ellis of Catholic University spoke.

Dr. Marvin, Alumni Fete Four of Faculty

FOUR MEMBERS of the University faculty and administrative staff who have completed 25 years' service were honored at a luncheon given by University President Cloyd H. Marvin and the officers of the General Alumni Association Saturday in Lisner lounge.

Those honored were Henry W. Herzog, University treasurer; Dr. Mitchell Dresse, dean of the College of General Studies; Dr. Ralph A. Kennedy, professor of accounting, and honorary for men.

He has served the University as graduate manager of publications, assistant to the comptroller, assistant comptroller and Comptroller. He became treasurer in 1953. He is also director of the Northwestern Savings and Loan Association.

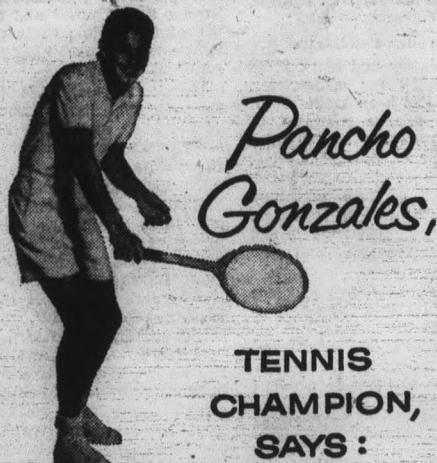

Dr. Dresse is professor of educational psychology. Having served the University as executive officer of the department of psychology, dean of the summer sessions and director of veterans education, he was named dean of the College of General Studies when it was established in 1950.

An authority on counseling and guidance, Dr. Dresse was chairman of the first International Workshop in Counseling and Guidance in Hessen, Germany, in 1951. He has served as president of the division of counseling and guidance of the American psychological association and as consultant in various psychological projects for the Departments of Defense, Army, the Navy and the Air Force.

Dr. Kennedy has held the rank of professor at the University since 1942. The author of a number of textbooks in accounting, he has served the University as executive officer of the department of accounting and business administration and is currently the executive officer of the department of accounting.

Dr. McIntire is chairman of the civilian lawyer career committee of the Department of the Army. He was the first editor of the University's Law Review when it was established in 1932. Since 1946, when Dr. McIntire resigned as associate professor of law and became a professional lecturer at the University, he has devoted a large share of his time to major posts with the government.

He has served as editor of the Municipal Law Journal, a member of the house of delegates to the American Bar Association and president of the Federal Bar Association.

Ford Offers New Fellowships To Attract College Teachers

• AN INTENSIVE NATIONWIDE effort to combat the mounting shortage of teachers in the nation's colleges was inaugurated April 4 by the Ford Foundation.

The organization announced a $25 million appropriation for a large-scale extension and development of the national Woodrow Wilson Fellowship program.

The Foundation's action will support a broad program to attract able college students into the academic profession and will provide graduate fellowships to potential college teachers at the rate of 1,000 a year for the next five years.

Individual awards, which will be applied to tuition and living expenses for the first year of graduate study, are expected to average $2,200 and will consume approximately $11 million of the total appropriation.

Another $10 million will go to universities for aid to graduate students beyond the first year. A nationwide recruiting program will absorb about $2.8 million, and administrative expenses over the five-year period are expected to be $1 million.

Out of the total funds appropriated, $200,000 will be made available to the Association of American Universities and its affiliate, the Association of Graduate Schools. This will provide for an immediate increase of 100 Woodrow Wilson fellowships for the fall of 1957—a 50 percent rise over the 200 awarded this spring.

To conduct the expanded recruitment and fellowship program planned for the next five years, the organization is being reconstituted as a nonprofit corporation. The independent governing board is to be made up of a combination of distinguished laymen and educators.

"In the next 15 years," Henry T. Heald, president of the Foundation, said last month, "it is expected that we will be teaching twice as many college students as at present. Yet up to now college teaching is the one major field for which able college students have not been actively recruited."

"The program of the National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Corporation provides a coordinated attempt to meet the serious shortage of qualified faculty members in our college and universities."

The recruitment program will be conducted largely through a corps of 100 or more faculty members on approximately 1,000 college campuses. Four or five full-time regional field directors will assist in developing and coordinating the program.

Nominations for Woodrow Wilson Fellowships will be made by local faculty members, and selection will be made by regional committees and a national committee made up of active university and college faculty members.

Fellowship recipients may, in general, attend the institutions of their choice and will be free to select their own fields of study. Awards formerly were made only in the humanities and social sciences. The new program includes the natural sciences and mathematics as well.

Clarence H. Faust, vice president of the Foundation, said that the prospective rate of enrollment in graduate schools can promise only one new Ph.D. to the nation's colleges for every five or six new teachers needed.

He said that if the number of doctoral candidates available to teaching is not increased beyond present expectations, the proportions of faculty members with Ph.D. training will fall from the present 40 per cent to 20 per cent or less by 1970.

"The problem is one of quality as well as quantity," Mr. Faust added. "The quality of higher education will not be served by meeting the faculty shortage with inadequately prepared people or by training those of mediocre ability."

"We must make a serious effort not only to induce more young men and women to prepare for college teaching but also to persuade more of our ablest college

Motion Questioned

• WE BELIEVE THAT the recommendation by the Student Council last week to discontinue payment or the division of profits to the associate editors of the Cherry Tree and to the business manager and advertising manager of the HATCHET were made hurriedly, and without a complete investigation of the facts.

A motion was introduced at the meeting recommending a discontinuation of all remuneration to persons on publications now receiving such payment. These persons are the editor-in-chief, the business manager and the associate editors of the Cherry Tree; and the business manager and the advertising manager of the HATCHET. Later, this motion was amended to recommend payment discontinuation for the business and advertising manager of the HATCHET and the associate editors of the Cherry Tree. Why were the two top jobs on the Cherry Tree left untouched? According to Council reasoning, because the Cherry Tree is not supported by the University and losses incurred by the Cherry Tree are borne by the editor and the business manager. Why were the HATCHET jobs dropped from pay? According to Council reasoning because the school subsidizes the paper, and the business manager and advertising manager are not involved in risk.

The HATCHET is given approximately $13,000 a year to run on, and its advertising nets about $8,000. Much of this advertising is due to the business and advertising managers. The HATCHET believes that without this incentive, the amount of advertising will dwindle and in return the University will lose more money.

The HATCHET thinks that the decision was passed hurriedly, as neither the editorial board of the HATCHET or the Cherry Tree, nor the adviser to the student publications, nor the publications committee was asked for its advice on the matter. The Council failed in its responsibility as the representative of the student body to look into the full problem of remuneration to students taking part in activities. The HATCHET plans to fully look into the matter and will report in next week's editorial column.

Council Elections

• EVERYTHING THIS YEAR seems to be moving too swiftly. One day it's winter and the next it's summer. One day we're taking mid-terms and the next it's time for finals. Particularly, one day we're on Easter vacation and the next it's time to start thinking about who will be the best Student Council officers for 1957-58.

With everything moving so swiftly to a climax, there has been little time or thought actually given to the upcoming elections. We thought it was just apathy but on counting the petitions, a good round number of 36 which is a little better than usual, we concluded that people just haven't had enough time to start pre-election rumors and candidates are not glaring daggers at each other yet because they aren't quite sure who their opponents are.

Just before elections is the time we always give a word or two of advice as veterans who have withstood many years of campaigning.

First, don't be fooled by the person who makes the most noise. Look carefully into the qualifications of each candidate before you vote.

Don't lend your activities book to anyone. Stuffing ballot boxes is a time-honored way of winning an election but doesn't always insure the best officers.

Don't forget your own activities book. You will need it to vote.

Last but not least—DON'T FORGET TO VOTE.

May Day

• WE URGE ALL students to attend May Day this Friday evening. The traditional assembly marks the end of a year, the beginning of a new one, recognition for those students who have contributed to University life during the past year, and tapping those whose responsibility for activities it will be in the future.

Tapping for Omicron Delta Kappa, Mortar Board, and the Order of Scarlet; announcement of new HATCHET and Cherry Tree editors; sports awards, activities prizes and announcement of the literary contest winners will be made and the 1957 May Day Queen will be crowned. Perhaps the highlight of the evening will be the results of the Student Council elections.

May Day is a once-a-year affair, a good program—and one we sincerely think you will enjoy.

Borden, Kolonia, Shoemaker Elected May Queen Finalists

BEV BORDEN

BETTE KOLONIA

SANDY SHOEMAKER

• BEV BORDEN, BETTE Kolonia and Sandy Shoemaker have been selected as the three May Queen finalists.

Chosen by the women students of the University in an election last week, these three finalists will compete for the title of 1957 May Queen on Friday. The polls in front of the Student Union will be open from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m., 12 to 1:30 p.m., and 5 to 6:30. As in the preliminary voting, all women students will be eligible to vote. Each voter must present her activities book, signed in ink, before casting her ballot.

The Queen will be announced and crowned that same evening at the May Day program, which will be held in Lisner auditorium at 8:30. All three finalists will wear long white gowns. The rest of her court will be dressed in long, pastel colored formal gowns.

Since the May Queen is the University's traditional activities queen, a rundown on the activities of each finalist may help you decide on your candidate:

Homecoming Co-chairman

Pi Beta Phi president and 1956 Homecoming co-chairman top Bev Borden's impressive list of activities. Bev has also served as Freshman Director of the Student Council, Group II Manager of the Dance Production groups, president of the Women's Athletic Association and also Oquassa, co-chairman of the University's first Colonial Cruise, vice president of Mortar Board, and swimming manager. In addition Bev has been a member of the Dramatics Advisory Board, WRA, Campus Combo, Strong Hall Dorm Council, Delphi, Big Sis, the Tennis club, Glee club, International Students Society and the Panhellenic Council. She has also appeared in several drama productions, notably "Girl Crazy" and "The Curious Savage."

The Board of Trustees

by Ernest Auerbach

• ON MAY 9, the Board of Trustees will ride the Lisner Library elevator to the sixth floor, enter the long rectangular meeting room and the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees will begin.

The Board of Trustees is the final authority of the University, the top policy making body, yet it is a group little known to the student group.

What are the functions of the Board? The Board outlines the policies of the University, from personnel to public relations from extracurricular to legal matters. There are 13 subject committees of the Board, each reflecting one side of the University life, and the executive committee which acts as a steering committee.

The presiding officer of the Board is Robert Fleming, Chairman of the Board. Serving as Chairman since 1937, Mr. Fleming is assisted by a secretary to the Board, Mr. Newell Ellison, and an assistant secretary, Dr. Clarence Aspinwall. The secretaries are responsible for the official minutes and their distribution to the members of the Board, and for the signing of certain legal documents.

Preparing the agenda and taking minutes at Board meetings is Miss Myrna Sedgwick, administrative secretary of the University.

What is the position of the President of the University? What is his relation between the Board and the faculty and administration?

President Marvin is in a liaison position. Decisions of policy, made by the Board, are transmitted through Dr. Marvin for action by the faculty and administration. On the other hand, questions and matters stemming from the faculty and administration are brought up for Board action by President Marvin.

Dr. Marvin is a member ex officio of each of the committees of the Board and serves as chairman of the executive committee.

How exactly are decisions made by the Board? Let us follow from beginning to end a Board decision. If a University instructor is recommended for promotion by the administration, this recommendation will be given to the appropriate subject committee of the Board by action of President Marvin. In this case the recommendation would be given to the committee on personnel.

The committee will consider the promotion and its merit. If the recommendation receives the committee's approval, the decision will

• THE ARMORY OUT at Hyattsville was the scene last Saturday night for the annual Shipwreck Ball given each year by the Pikes, and a mad and merry scene it was!!!

40 foot trees decorated the hall, a huge skull sat in the middle of the stage as the people and the place was jammed. Every manner of costume appeared, and two of the good brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha arrived painted completely in gold, right down to their shoes. Rumor holds the two were Jack Purinton and Fred Stevenson, but they weren't very easily identifiable.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the 1957 Shipwreck Queen, Pi Phi Betsy Evans. Her escort, Pike Bernle Passeltiner, was chosen king of the shipwreck ball. Bare headed (literally!) Moose Kutch led the procession around the armory, as Queen Betsy was borne atop a 25 foot gold throne through the swaying masses.

The much awaited Beard Growing Contest judging was held Thursday night at the Pike House. Number one prize went to Phi Alpha's Stan Smith, who sported a fearsome black chin foliage. Second place went to Bob Hoeber of SPE, and third to Henri Kock, a French student at the University. Bringing up the end with a fourth place was Sig Ep's Val Zabijaka, with a fine Van Dyke. After the judging, with an arrival of a large contingent of French students, a party ensued with songs and jokes in German, French, Spanish and Italian.

However the question looming large now, is what are these lads going to do with the beards, now that they have gone to the trouble of wearing them. A quick survey indicated that three-fourths intend to keep them. Now, fellas...

• JOHN V. CANFIELD, Otto H. Ulrich, Jr., both seniors at the University, are among the 302 young men and women to receive National Woodrow Wilson fellowships. Mr. Canfield plans to attend Brown University. Mr. Ulrich will study at the University of Pennsylvania. The awards are made only upon invitation after nomination by established members of the academic profession. Wilson fellowships enable young scholars to test their interests in the first year of graduate work and thus to determine whether they wish to enter careers of teaching and scholarship.

be discussed before the full meeting of the Board. With approval by the Board, the decision for promotion will be given to President Marvin, who then makes news of the Board's decision to the faculty.

Of course, some of the 13 subject committees function more frequently than others. With the continuing expansion and development of the University, the building and lands committee meets almost continuously. Others, such as the committee on extracurricular activities, meets most often when specific matters are brought to it. Decisions of these committees are brought to full Board meetings, discussed, and acted upon.

At present, there are 29 Board members, elected by the members of the Board, and eligible for re-election by the Board. There are four regular meetings per year, and special meetings may be called if necessary.

One hears little of the Board of Trustees, but these persons, working behind the scenes, outline the policy which gives the students their faculty, facilities, buildings and land. Their work is of key importance and a knowledge of their work, may help, as it did this reporter, in an understanding of the determination of University policy.

THE THUNDERING MARCH OF PROGRESS

Today, as everyone knows, is the forty-sixth anniversary of the founding of Gransmire College for Women which, as everyone knows, was the first Progressive Education college in the United States.

Well do I recollect the tizzy in the academic world when Gransmire first opened its portals! What a buzz there was, what a brouhaha in faculty common-rooms, what a rattling of teacups, when Dr. Agnes Thudd Sigafous, first president of Gransmire, lifted her shaggy head and announced defiantly, "This here is no stuffy, old-fashioned college. This here, by gum, is Progressive Education. We will teach the student, not the course. There will be no marks, no exams, no requirements. We will break the iron mold of orthodoxy, hey."

Well sir, forward-looking maidens all over the country cast off their fetters and came rushing to New Hampshire to enroll at Gransmire. Here they found freedom. They broadened their vistas. They lengthened their horizons. They unstopped their bottled personalities. They roamed the campus in togas, leading ocelots on leashes.

And, of course, they smoked Philip Morris. (I say "of course." Why do I say "of course"? I say "of course" because it is a matter of course that anyone in search of freedom should naturally turn to Philip Morris, for Philip Morris is a natural smoke, with no filter to get in the way of its true tobacco taste.)

But all was not Philip Morris and ocelots. There was work and study too — not in the ordinary sense, for there were no formal classes, instead there was a broad approach to enlarging each girl's potentials.

Take, for example, the course called B.M.S. (Basic Motor Skills). B.M.S. was divided into L.D. (Lying Down), S.U. (Standing Up) and W. (Walking). Once the student had mastered L.D. and S.U., she was taught to W. — but not just to W. any old way! No, sir! She was taught to W. with poise, dignity, bearing! To inculcate a sense of balance in the girl, she began her exercises by walking with a suitcase in each hand. (One girl, Mary Ellen Dorgenecht, got so good at it that today she is bell captain at the Dinkler-Plaza Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia.)

When the girls had walking under their belts, they were allowed to dance. Again no formality was imposed. They were simply told to fling themselves about in any way their impulses dictated, and believe you me, it was quite an impressive sight to see them go bounding into the woods with their togas flying. (Several later joined the U. S. Forestry Service.)

There was also a lot of finger painting and gourd rattling and sculpture with coat hangers and all like that, and soon the fresh wind of Progressivism came whistling out of Gransmire to blow the ancient dust of pedantry off curricula everywhere, and today, thanks to the pioneers at Gransmire, we are all free, every man-jack of us.

If you are ever in New Hampshire, be sure to visit the Gransmire campus. It is now a tannery.

© Max Shulman, 1957

And be sure to light a Philip Morris when you visit Gransmire, or anywhere else for that matter, because Philip Morris is always a naturally perfect companion and brings you this column each week and is ignitable at either end.

Council To Recommend End Of Several Paid Student Jobs

by Rhoda Ezrin

AFTER A DISCUSSION which lasted for almost two hours, the Student Council, at last week's meeting, voted to recommend to Dr. Marvin that the business and advertising managers of the HATCHET not be remunerated for fulfilling their jobs. Following this, another motion was passed to recommend also that payment to the associate editors of the Cherry Tree be discontinued.

The motion concerning HATCHET editors was passed in a relatively short time. The general feeling among the Council members was that since the newspaper is subsidized by the school and it is not necessary for the editors to assume any risk, payment should be made to no members of the staff.

The question of giving remuneration to members of the Cherry Tree staff received more discussion. The annual's profits are presently divided in such a way that the editor and business manager each receive 30%, the three associate editors receive 10% each, and the University gets the remaining 10%, for the use of facilities. In the case of the yearbook, the editor and business manager are required to underwrite any loss, while the associate editors bear no financial responsibility. Therefore, the Council felt that the practice of remunerating the editor and business manager should be continued, but that money should not be given to the associate editors.

To settle the problem of what to do with the 30% to be taken away, activities director Doris Rosenberg suggested that this extra money be given back to the students who buy the Cherry Tree by reducing the price of the yearbook. Following this suggestion, Jerry Reinsdorf, advocate, introduced an amendment that the money be used to effect a permanent reduction in the price of the Cherry Tree, beginning with the 1959 edition, and that the profits, beginning also with that edition, be divided into 45% for both the editor and business manager, and 10% for the University.

Thus the motion was passed. In each case, the recommendations must be approved by Dr. Marvin before they can go into effect.

In other business, Mr. Reinsdorf moved that mass telephoning and sending letters be considered as falling under the heading of

by Elva Lee Schrebel

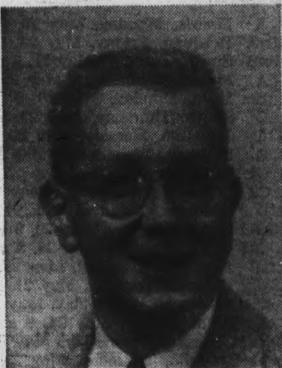

• "WHAT DID YOU enjoy most about working on the Career Conference?" "Well," replied co-chairman Ed Crump with sober, pseudo-sincerity in his voice, "the fact that it's over."

Never one to be outwardly gung-ho about anything, he goes on, in a manner completely Ed Crump, "For a while there I was seeing more of Ray (Ray Garcia, the other co-chairman of Career Conference) than I was of my family!" However, there's a note of reluctant enthusiasm as he comments, "I enjoyed the chance to meet Sen. Humphrey. I was very much impressed with him."

"campaigning." As each, both phone calls and letters would be illegal under the present rules which limit campaigning to specific areas and hours. This motion was passed.

For all his nonchalance, Ed has been quite active in student activities during his three years at the University. Associate Editor of the Student Handbook last summer, he continued journalistic endeavors last Fall as Associate Editor of the Cherry Tree. In recognition of journalistic ability, he was recently initiated into Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary.

A member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity (you can tell by the blue blazer with the SAE crest he often wears), he was rush chairman for two semesters, and also served a term on the Inter Fraternity Council as Secretary.

He has also served as membership chairman of the Colonial Booster Board and as membership secretary of the original Old Men executive board. He was also on the original executive board of the Order of Scarlet, and worked on Homecoming last year as program chairman.

Although he maintains a casual attitude toward academics, he has maintained a 3.3 over-all QPI, and now holds an Emma K. Carr scholarship. For activities and academics, he was named last year to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

In addition to other activities, Ed now holds a part-time job with the General Alumni Association.

In contrast to the trend of four, five and six years of under graduate study, Ed will graduate this summer after three years with a Political Science major, and go on to Law School. His undergraduate days dogged by rumors of scheduled matches (wrestling boxing, what have you) with Paul Welch, (which, Ed says, "I have always regretted being unable to make"), perhaps in Law School he and Paul will come together, "in something like Moot Court—I hope."

He says of graduation, with all the forms involved, and the graduate record exam, "I maintain that just finding out how to get out is an accomplishment."

Considers G. W. Unique

However, of G. W. he says, "It's truly a unique school, and we're very fortunate to have such an excellent faculty in political science and history."

Also, college has changed his political beliefs. "Dr. Gray, Mr. Ludden and Mr. LeBlanc have made a New Dealer out of me," he says. Asked what he was before, he replies with a straight face, "A Federalist." He is also always up to date!

Again, supporting lost causes, he holds himself to be a fan of the Washington Senators.

As for his future, he sees a chance that the long awaited match between himself and Paul Welch (long awaited by everyone but Ed) may take place in Law School—but in Moot Court instead of wrestling ring.

Superman Club

Recently a great honor has come to Ed. He received certificate of membership "suitable for framing" in the Supermen of America club, along with a personal letter from Clark Kent. "Who sent it is a great mystery," comments Ed. "At first I thought my friend Warren Barley had, but he also received a membership certificate suitable for framing. But, at any rate, I'm deeply honored."

Class Helps Eye Program

• THE EYE BANK of the Lions International has been aided in their program by members of the Public Relations 146 class, under Col. John V. Hinkel.

The Eye Bank was established with the purpose of giving sight to the blind people of the world. A technique has been perfected whereby the cornea of the human eye can now be transplanted to the eye of a blind person. In the past few months, there have been six such successful operations in the Washington area, according to Chuck Gionet, chairman of the class project.

However, Mr. Gionet said there is a waiting list of some 1,100 blind or nearly blind people who are waiting for such chance for the operation. Mr. Gionet said "As you might imagine, there is a shortage of eyes and this is where the class comes in. We are going to try to show the public that it is not only a very worthwhile cause, but that it is also one charity that you don't have to part with cold cash." Mr. Gionet explained that the extraction of the cornea takes place upon the death of the donor and in no way disfigures the appearance of the deceased.

ALD Initiates Freshman Girls

• MISS VIRGINIA SHERARD, assistant director of women's activities, became an honorary member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, in initiation ceremonies held April 6 in Woodhull house.

Other new initiates, all freshman women with a minimum average of 3.5 for their first full-time semester at the University, were Muriel I. Allen, Evelyn Baumann, Helen L. Benson, Elaine E. Eger, Rona L. Englander, Sheila Footer, Elizabeth A. Fretz, Marilyn J. Hogenson, Letty Katz, Mary Kay Patterson, Jean Serber, Theodore A. Warden, Irene R. Wolfe and Anna Jirgens.

Initiation ceremonies were conducted by Mary Hoffman, retiring president of the honorary. Mrs. Helen Z. Yakobson, executive officer of the department of Slavic languages and literatures, is faculty adviser to the group.

Rosalind Hauk, University senior, received the honorary's book award for maintaining the highest average of all Alpha Lambda Delta members throughout her four years at the University. Miss Hauk, a chemistry major, delivered a brief address to the new initiates after the ceremony.

A tea in the Strong Hall lounge followed the program. Old members, new initiates and faculty guests were feted by the staff of the office of women's activities.

Students May Go Abroad For $780

• STUDENTS WITH LIMITED time and budgets can travel this year.

In response to demand for an inexpensive and yet all inclusive European tour program, the U. S. National Student Association's educational travel office is offering the "1957 Whirlwind Tour."

The Whirlwind Tour is a 53-day program costing $780. Tour participants visit France, Germany, Austria, Italy, the French Riviera and French Alps.

The tour leaves Quebec on the S. S. Neptune July 6 arriving in time for Bastille Day festivities in Paris, and returns to Quebec by August 28. European students act as guides on all NSA tours and ample opportunity for meeting students in informal settings is provided.

The price includes round-trip transatlantic transportation, (with shipboard orientation and recreation sessions), hotel accommodations, three meals a day, land transportation, sightseeing and excursions as well as tickets for evening entertainment in Paris, Vienna and Rome. Tours are limited to students between the ages of 18 and 30. Deadline for applications is tomorrow.

Rules Limit Campaigns By Definite Boundaries

• JERRY REINSDORF, current Student Council advocate, restated Council campaign rules in a meeting of all candidates last Friday evening.

He particularly stressed strict adherence to the boundaries of the campaign area this year. Campaigning will be limited to:

1. The north side of G street between 21st st. and the west end of Monroe Hall;

2. The north side of G street between 22nd St. and east end of sorority hall;

3. The campus area behind Monroe Hall.

The hours for campaigning have been changed this year. No campaigning will be permitted during the ten-minute breaks between morning classes. Therefore, campaign periods tomorrow will be before 9:10 a.m., noon to 1:10 p.m., 2 to 6 p.m., 7 to 7:10 p.m. and 8 to 8:10 p.m.

Campaigning on Thursday will be limited to the time before 8:45 a.m., 10 to 11 a.m., 12:25 to 2:10 p.m., 5 to 6:15 p.m., 7:15 to 8:15 p.m. and 2:45 to 9 p.m.

Material Prohibited

No campaign material may be placed in classrooms, according to Mr. Reinsdorf, nor will verbal campaigning be allowed in classes or the Student Union.

No campaign material may be placed or posted on trees. Regulation size posters (11 by 14 inches) may be placed on University bulletin boards with approval of the business office. Violators of these rules will be prosecuted by the Student Council and disqualified if found guilty.

Voting booths will be open tomorrow and Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 9:15 p.m. Activities books, signed in ink, must be presented to the person on the booth at the time of voting. All students must also have valid identification.

Results of the elections will be announced Friday at the May Day program in Lisner auditorium.

Engineering Holds '57 Ball, Banquet

• STUDENTS IN THE School of Engineering will hold their annual ball and banquet Saturday evening in the main ballroom of the Willard Hotel.

The evening's program is open to all University students. The banquet will begin at 7 p.m. and the dance is scheduled from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets for the entire evening are $10 a couple. Admission to the banquet alone is $4 a plate and ball tickets are $4 a couple. The price of the dance ticket includes set-ups.

Sales booths will be open in Tompkins hall throughout the week and today and tomorrow in the Student Union lobby. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

The banquet will be followed by the presentation of awards to outstanding engineering students by Dean Martin A. Mason and his Engineering School colleagues.

from the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will be Albert Pinto and Joseph Greblunas;

Recipients of professional engineering society awards are selected on the basis of area student competition. Receiving recognition from the American Society of Civil Engineers, Richard Rumke and Richard Haefs; from the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Morrow Moore, and from the Institute of Radio Engineers, Earl Reber and John Manning.

'Natives' Star At Shipwreck

• UNIVERSITY students went native Saturday night for the annual Shipwreck Ball sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Hyattsville armory was filled with costumed couples, including pirates and slave girls, Congo kings and queens and myriads of shipwrecked sailors.

Betsy Evans reigned as Shipwreck Queen. In her court were Joanne Holler, Beverlie Giss and Bonnie Borden. Also on hand were former queens Bev Borden, '55, and Cece LeSturgeon, '56.

Palm trees, D. C. style, decked the sides of the armory, and branches lined the walls. Tom Miller's orchestra played for the ball.

Many men sported beards, grown for competition in the traditional pre-Shipwreck whisker contest sponsored by the fraternity. Stan Smith took first place in the contest, which was judged last Thursday evening at the fraternity house. Mr. Smith received a Remington electric razor for his beard-growing efforts.

The dance is the nineteenth sponsored annually by the fraternity. Open to all University students, it features free admission and colorful native costume. Traditionally it hails the approaching end of the spring semester.

Institute Issues Traveler Publications

• TWO PUBLICATIONS issued by the Institute of International Education will be of interest to the summer traveler.

They are Summer Study Abroad, an annual listing of summer schools in other countries, and the March issue of the institute's monthly News Bulletin which is devoted to summer educational travel.

Of particular interest in the News Bulletin are several articles discussing the latest trends in student travel, including new programs to Asia and Africa and shipboard orientation.

Hints on "How to Be Lovable though Rich and Vulgar" are offered to beleaguered Americans by Graham Wilson of San Jose (California) State College, who served as one of the first leaders on the Institute's Trans-Pacific orientation program.

Dr. Hans Simon, President of the New School for Social Research in New York, in an editorial on student travel, presents a useful analysis of the American tourist abroad.

Many Courses

Over 120 summer courses in 21 countries are listed in Summer Study Abroad. The 23-page leaflet gives information on application, language requirements, credit number of Canadian universities and at the American University of Beirut in Lebanon.

Foreign Institutions

Summer Study Abroad includes only those courses which are sponsored by foreign educational institutions. Reference is made to other publications which discuss study tours, work camps or other opportunities for a summer abroad.

Copies of Summer Study Abroad may be obtained free from the Institute of International Education in New York or from its regional offices at 1520 P St. in Washington. There is a charge of 25 cents per copy for the News Bulletin.

Kappa Alpha Theta Cops Girl's Swim

Betty Barry Is Individual Winner

• KAPPA ALPHA THETA took first place in team honors and Betty Barry won individual honors in the 1957 annual All-University Women's Swim Meet held Wednesday, April 17.

Betty Barry took three first places. She won the forty-yard back crawl, the forty-yard breast stroke and the back crawl form, for a total of 18 points, the highest individual score. Marilyn Miller won the synchronized swimming and the optional stunts "submarine" and "flamingo" for second place with a score of 16 points. Julie Kiesling won a total of 15 points for third place, and Pat Pierson scored 13 points and Bev Borden 12 for the fourth and fifth places.

These five were picked to make up the Honorary Varsity Swimming Team.

Although the competition is open to all individuals, the score of all the entrants of the various sororities is added up for the Inter-Sorority Swim Meet. Kappa Alpha Theta came in first with a total of 60 points. Pi Beta second with 44 points, and Kappa Gamma third with 36 points.

Alpha Delta Pi came in fourth with 20 points, Zeta Tau Alpha with 16 points and Sigma Kappa sixth with 15 points. Next came Kappa Delta with 13, Delta Gamma with 11 and Delta Zeta with seven. Chi Omega and Phi Sigma Sigma were not represented.

As a result of their recent winning of the Golf Tournament and their second place in the Swim Meet, Pi Beta Phi finished first in the Inter-Sorority Athletic Board standing, beating out Chi Omega by one point. This means that Pi Beta Phi will retain the rotating ISAB cup that they won for the first time last year. Another win next year would retire the cup to Pi Phi.

Loretta Lowe Wins Tourney

by Elva Shroebel

• LORETTA LOWE SWEEPED to her second winning of the University's Annual Tennis Singles Tournament last Saturday on the East Potomac Courts as she defeated runner-up Barbara Baldorf in straight sets, 6-0, 6-0.

Loretta reached the finals by defeating freshman Eleanor Holt in straight sets, 6-0, 6-1 in the semi-finals, and defeating Ethel Tucker, 6-0, 6-0, in an earlier round.

As a result of the tournament, Loretta and Barbara Baldorf will represent the University in the Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament to be held Saturday and Sunday, May 11 and 12, on the East Potomac Park Courts. Loretta is defending champion in this competition, having won the title last year by a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Joyce Leek of Maryland University.

Other competition in the Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament will be from American University, Marjorie Webster Junior College, Mt. Vernon Junior College, Trinity College and Gallaudet College.

Phi Alpha Plays Theta Tau For League B Crown

by Bob Lipman

• PHI ALPHA (A) won two games by forfeit and beat TEP 14-5 to enable them to meet Theta Tau next week in a playoff game to determine the winner of League B.

SAE and Delta Theta Phi, two of the better teams in League B, gave Phi Alpha a golden opportunity to cop the league title by forfeiting Sunday. Phi Alpha is going into the playoff game with a record of 2 wins, 1 defeat and 3 forfeits. The only loss was at the hands of Theta Tau.

Theta Tau and pitcher J. Sullivan shut out the Med Seniors 3-0. Sullivan gave up one hit to Stansberry in the first inning. The only other man to reach first base was Stansberry in the fourth on an error.

Results

League B results—Med Srs. 19-TEP 5. DTPhi and Wesleyans were not present. Wesleyans forfeited to TEP.

Forfeits seemed to be the fashion Sunday as SPE won the League C title on a forfeit from Welling Hall.

AEPi (A) won a forfeit from the Newman Club.

The only game played in League C showed TKE whipping DTD (B) 9-5. The Delta scored 3 runs in the last inning, but their rally fell short. TKE scored 6 runs in the first two innings to wrap up the game.

(PiKA (B) beat the Med Frosh (B) and Sigma Chi to take the lead in League A.

Warren Lytle limited the SX's to 2 hits as PiKA won 4-1. Joe Hince and Danny Gillian hit three run homers to pace the Pike victory over the Med Frosh. Ed Cunningham, Med Frosh hurler, walked in four runs in the fifth inning when the Pikes added five big insurance runs.

Score Five Runs

The Med Frosh scored five runs in their half of the fifth on a walk to Henrich and consecutive singles by Watson, Churls, Cunningham and Parker. Cunningham slammed a bases-empty homer in the fourth.

League A results—AEPi (B) 17-Med Sophs 16; SX 20-AEPi (B) 3, Med Frosh 20-Med Sophs 7.

Phi Alpha (B) remained undefeated as they beat Phi Sigma Kappa 3-1 and won on a forfeit by Kappa Alpha.

Roger Spitzer pitched a three-hitter to deal Phi Sig their first loss. Phi Alpha scored a run in the first on Paul Garner's sacrifice fly, a run in the second on George Orlove's triple and Spitzer's single, and a final run in the fourth on Beyda's sacrifice fly scoring Garner.

Pitches Five-Hitter

Steve Moehler pitched a 5-hitter for Phi Sig in a losing cause. Holt knocked in the only Phi Sig run with a single. He had 2 out, of the 3 Phi Sig hits that Spitzer allowed.

In the fifth inning, Holt was up with the bases loaded, 2 out, a count of 3 and 2, but popped up to the second baseman.

League D results—Med Frosh (A) 20-Kappa Sigma 12, Phi Sig 17-Sigma Nu 3, PiKA (A) forfeited to Kappa Sigma, Med Frosh 9-Sigma Nu 7.

Mural notes: There were a total of eight forfeits on Sunday for the softball games. This is a poor showing for a school that prides itself on such a fine intramural program. Let's not let down on our participation, because it will kill the program and take away a great part of our education that we are fortunate to receive.

Buff Makes Strong Bid To Win SC, Area Titles

by Bob Lipman

• THE GEORGE WASHINGTON nine made a strong bid to cop the Southern Conference and the Washington area Big Three crowns during the Easter vacation.

The Colonials were dealt their first two losses of the season by Colgate and William and Mary, but still are on top of the Southern Conference and the Big Three race. They have an overall record of 10-2 and are 4-1 in conference play.

The Georgetown Hoyas were the first area team to taste defeat at the hands of the Colonials. They have an overall record of 10-2 and are 4-1 in conference play.

The Georgetown Hoyas were the first area team to taste defeat at the hands of the Colonials.

Four walks, three hits, and two glaring G. W. errors accounted for Colgate's six remaining runs.

Only consolation for the Colonials was the hitting prowess of Sam Knisley and Dick Cilento. Both hit home runs and singles to supply four of the six G. W. hits.

The Colonials hopped back on the victory trail with a 5-1 win over Vermont. Freshman sensation Jack Arthur limited the Catamounts to only two hits to deal Vermont its second loss in three starts. Bill Simmonds got both hits on singles in the fifth and eighth innings.

Second Start

This was Arthur's second starting assignment, and he has gone the route in both games. The southpaw has allowed only six hits in 18 innings. He gave Vermont 2 hits, struck out 15, including the side in the first and ninth innings, and walked five.

William and Mary dealt the Buff their first Southern Conference loss of the season as they won 8-3. Terry Slaughter, William and Mary hurler, held the Colonials to five hits and was never in any serious trouble after the second inning.

The Indians scored four runs on five hits in the fourth inning, including a double by Doug Henley to seal the win.

George Bickerton was the losing hurler. He has been charged with the Colonial's only losses of the season.

Jack Henzes crashed a bases-loaded double in the seventh inning highlighting a three-run rally that gave George Washington a 7-4 victory over Richmond.

Henzes Hits

Norman Bowles, Richmond hurler, was working behind a 3-2 lead when he walked Cilento, Giesler, and pitcher Arthur in succession. This set the stage for Henzes' clutch double.

G. W.'s winning streak came to an abrupt end at the hands of Colgate. The Red Raiders scored seven runs in the eighth inning to shatter all hopes of a Buff victory.

The deluge started when Guy Martin blasted his second homer for Colgate in the seventh. Then

Pete Spera Wins Individual Honors

by Charles Tauelle

• A SMALL BUT STRONG Welling Hall team ran off with its fourth straight Intramural Track crown last Saturday at sunbaked Western High School stadium.

Piling up 98 points in eleven events, the men of 22nd street romped in over 16 other competing teams. A perennial power in track events, Welling captured 6 firsts and 3 seconds.

Finishing second was Sigma Chi with 56 points followed by Delta Tau Delta, 43; Delta Theta Phi, 32; AEPi, 24, and PKA, 21.

Pete Spera took individual honors with 24 points. Pete was first in both the 60-yd. and 100-yd. dash and also ran with the Welling relay team. Following were Smith from Welling, 21; Tom Smith, Delta Tau Delta, 17; Dick Claypool, Sigma Chi, 17; Linde, AEPi, 15, and Loeder, Delta Theta Phi, 14.

Joe Ozefovich finished second with 22 points for Welling. Joe won the shot put, heaving it 46 feet while placing 2nd in the 100-yard dash, running with the winning relay team and placing in the discus throw.

New Records

Two new records were set Saturday. Bill Smythe, Delta Tau Delta, pole vaulted to a height of 11 feet, and Tom Smith, also of Delta Tau Delta, threw the football a record distance of 194 feet, six inches.

A crowd of over 200 watched 97 participants representing 17 teams. Because of the sweltering temperature of 91 degrees, Director of Intramurals Vincent De Angelis reduced the distance of some of the longer runs to save the men for other events.

Rundown

The complete rundown: 60-yd. dash—Spera, Welling; Linde, AEPi; Dennis, Welling; Harkleroad, Sigma Chi. Time: 0:10.5.

100-yd. dash—Spera, Welling; Ozefovich, Welling; Linde, AEPi; Harkleroad, Sigma Chi. Time: 0:10.5.

1/5 mile dash—Smith, Welling; Bets, Kappa Sigma; Myer, Phi Alpha; Jewett, Sigma Chi. Time: 0:42.2.

Discus Winner

2 1/2 mile run—Blair, Kappa Sigma; Black, PKA; Loeder, Delta Theta Phi; Mendelson, AEPi. Time: 2:45.

4 1/5 mile run—Loeder, Delta Theta Phi; Christie, Welling; Adams, Delta Tau Delta; Betts, Kappa Sigma.

Discus throw—Claypool, Sigma Chi; Frula, Welling; Matella, PKA; Ozefovich, Welling. Distance: 120'7".

Shot put—Ozefovich, Welling; Herman, Sigma Chi; Fortner, Delta Tau Delta; Tomczykowski, Sigma Chi. Distance: 46'.

High jump—Whetstone, Sigma Chi and Haverty, Welling; Gleason, SAE; Munter, Delta Tau Delta; McHan, SAE, Medina, Delta Tau Delta. Height: 5'7".

Javelin—Walter, PKA; Smith, Delta Tau Delta; Barrow, Sigma Chi; McClure, Newman Club. Distance: 134'.

Pole vault—Smythe, Delta Tau Delta; Hart, Delta Tau Delta; Thomson, Delta Theta Phi; Doyle, Kappa Alpha; Wheaton, Sigma Chi. Height: 11'.

Broad jump—Yates, Sigma Chi; Munter, Delta Theta Phi; Gleason, SAE; Ennis, Welling. Distance: 18'11".

Football throw—Smith, Delta Tau Delta; Mason, Phi Alpha; Sutton, Welling; Claypool, Sigma Chi. Distance: 194'6".

1/5 mile relay—Welling (Spera, Smith, Russell, Ozefovich); Sigma Chi (Harkleroad, Yates, Whetstone, Claypool); AEPi (Fram, Linde, Mendelson, Leibowitz).

G. W. Netmen Want Repeat In SC Tourney

by Malcolm Martin

• ON THURSDAY FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, the G. W. Tennis Team will be at Davidson trying to repeat as Southern Conference Tennis Champions. Thus far, the squad is undefeated in conference competition in seven starts and has lost only to Duke and North Carolina, both of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

On April 16, the team played well but lost to a well drilled Duke squad 6-3. All matches were very close and the usually reliable Colonial doubles combinations faltered, losing all three matches. Rebounding quickly from the setback, the netmen took the court two days later and got partial revenge for their previous defeat by white-washing West Virginia 9-0 in a Southern Conference match.

Last Friday, the Colonials made it 9 victories against 2 defeats by beating Georgetown 7-1. Jim Tarr got things rolling as he has been doing all season with a nifty 6-0, 6-1 victory. This marked the eleventh straight victory for Jim. Saul Leibowitz and Jack Tarr made it 3-0 for G. W. when they won their matches 6-3, 6-2, and 6-0, 6-2 respectively. John Bouquet and John Kaarid won handily, 6-3, 6-3, and 6-4, 6-3, respectively and the Colonials led 5-0. In court 5 a battle royal was in progress. Phil Dobyns, after losing the first set 7-9, rallied to beat his opponent 7-5 in the second. But the match was called a draw so that the doubles could start.

Jim and Jack Tarr won the number 1 doubles 6-4, 6-2. The Hoyas luck suddenly turned as Bouquet and Dobyns lost 4-6, 6-3, 3-6. However, Leibowitz and Kaarid won the final match 2-6, 6-2, 6-1, to give G. W. a 7-1 victory.

Jim Tarr, the only player on the squad who is still undefeated this year, should face his toughest test when the Colonials square off against the high riding Terps this week to close out their regularly scheduled season.
